Richard Gordon, Leading Man Once Worked Hard For "Scoops"

After a few minutes' chat with Richard Gordon, leading man of the Lucille LaVerne company, one learns the young actor has compressed a lot of experience into his short but successful career. "I don't care to be interviewed, for I was a reporter some time ago on the New York World, and you know a newspaper man doesn't care to talk for publication," argued Mr. Gordon.

"I guess I gained some experience in the 'greenroom' of life while trying to get 'scoops' for the World. I have gained a little in the 'green room' of the theater," Mr. Gordon claims the distinction of never playing a minor part in any play since he first went on the stage. "You know I got into the theatrical profession by having my bluff called. My uncle who was in one of the government departments in Washington, offered me a position in the Philippines. I said I wouldn't go, and would go on the stage. I had no intention of doing so then, for I was bluffing."

"All right," said my uncle, "I'll arrange that for you." Forthwith he sent me to the Sergeant School of Dramatic Art in New York. I studied there and graduated with honors. For some time in the early part of my studies, I never inclined to the stage. Then I thought, I would seriously consider becoming an actor.

"After graduating I was given a leading part in 'The Village Postmaster', then I was engaged as leading man in 'The Wolf', a Shubert production. I stayed with the Shuberts for three years playing in New York and all the leading cities. When the all-star cast with Hattie Williams in the leading role, was put on in New York in 'The Girl I Could Not Leave Behind', by Charles Frohman, I was a member of the company and was successful," Mr. Gordon was leading man with the Percy Hallowell Stock company in Toronto in the summer of 1909, subsequently he joined Francis Wilson in 'The Bachelor's Baby'. Mr. Gordon is not only a clever actor but he is a fine looking young man and has already made a big hit in the part of 'Bud Haines' in 'A Gentleman From Mississippi' at the Auditorium.

CHRISTIAN MEN NOW IN CHARGE OF THE COUNTRY

Pres. Wilson and Secy. of State Bryan Praised for Work by Speaker at Methodist Men's Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 29.—That "Now have a Christian man in the white house, an administration of Sabbath observance in all the departments of the government," and that Pres. Taft's administration, represented more subservience to the liquor interests and other bad combinations than any other in American history," were the declarations of Dr. Clayton True Wilson of Topeka, Kas., secretary of the Temperance society of the Methodist church, who addressed the National convention of Methodist Men here Tuesday afternoon.

Dr. Wilson declared that Pres. Taft waited until the last minute, when he hoped there would be no time for reconsideration, before vetoing the Webb liquor bill and said that his administration "went down to defeat beneath an avalanche of indignant protest, such as never has been duplicated in the United States."

A great Christian leader is secretary of state now," continued Dr. Wilson. "Our former secretary of state used to send out letters to all American consuls, notifying them of brewers' conventions and ordering them to investigate and see what they could do to increase the exportation of American beers to their country. William J. Bryan will never do that. When Mr. Bryan calls the representatives of the nations around his hospitable board, he serves the same kind of grape juice, which was used in Palestine in the days of Jesus. And when a few newspapers commented, Mr. Bryan made a speech that was heard around the world; and Bryan's grape juice became as popular as Kansas butter milk."

Dr. Wilson said under the present administration, all grog shops have been closed in the Panama zone, and the battleships of the navy forbidden to carry alcoholic liquors on board. He declared the cause of temperance had received a great uplift.

W. L. Haven of New York, secretary of American Bible society of the Methodist church, declared that the Bible is the greatest missionary because "it is the unswerving mirror of Jesus Christ," and made a plea for automobile, is somewhat improved.

more funds to send the Bible to all parts of the world.

Edgar Blake, Chicago, secretary of the board of Sunday schools, objected to what he said was the practice of some churches of paying more money for the church music than was given to the Sunday school work.

The negative attitude of the public educational system toward the subject of religion is the most important reason for the slow growth of the church, according to Dr. Thomas Nicholson of New York, secretary of the board of education. He said there were many educational institutions in which religion was not even an elective study. He also named the automobile as one of the causes for poor church attendance on Sundays.

P. J. Maveety of Cincinnati, secretary of the Freedman's Aid society, made a plea for the education of the Negro and Dr. Ward Platt, and Dr. Charles M. Boswell, secretaries of the Home Missions and Church Extension board, told of their work and the need of more funds. Dr. Boswell urged the need of "neighborhood churches" in the cities. Bishop W. F. Oldham, secretary of the board of foreign missions, told of the work in foreign fields and the need of more missionaries.

Bishops C. W. Smith, St. Louis, and Earl Cranston, Washington, D. C., presided Tuesday afternoon and special music was furnished by the Chalmers University quintet of Negro men from Orangeburg, S. C.

The speakers at Tuesday night's meeting were Bishop W. E. Anderson of Cincinnati and Bishop H. Hughes of the National and Bishop Homer C. Stuntz of South America on "An Awakened World."

CANAL IS FINE PIECE OF WORK

Sen. O'Gorman and Acting Secy. of War Breckenridge Take Issue With Statement Made by Frenchman.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29.—"I would rather take the word of Col. Goethals on the Panama canal than the word of this Frenchman," said Sen. O'Gorman, chairman of the senate inter-oceanic canals committee, respecting the statement of Philippe Bunau-Varilla, the French engineer, that the Panama canal is a "second or third class piece of work."

"I think no one disputes the statement that American engineers stand foremost in the world," continued Sen. O'Gorman.

"This statement is inconsistent with another credited to this Frenchman to the effect that Col. Goethals, if a Frenchman, might be elected president of France. Certainly a man who had done a second or third class piece of work could have no claim on that honor."

Acting Secretary of War Breckenridge took issue with the French engineer.

"The Panama canal as it now stands is one of the finest pieces of engineering in the world," he said.

"The locks have been most carefully constructed and I am sure that it would take an earthquake more severe than Panama has yet experienced to impair their usefulness. Shocks reported from Panama about three weeks ago were stronger than any other ever recorded there, but they did not damage the delicate machinery of the locks in the least."

"The canal at present can accommodate the largest ships afloat and there is a margin of safety which will take care of even larger steamers should such be built in the next few years. The Gatun dam is a staunch built piece of masonry which will withstand the ravages of time and will remain as a lasting monument to the genius of American engineering skill."

PRESIDENT TOO TIRED TO GREET CROWDS

Gives Orders That Train Make no Long Stops on Way to Capital.

ON BOARD THE PRESIDENT'S TRAIN—SALISBURY, N. C., Oct. 29.—Apparently tired by the necessity of prolonged handshaking at every station enroute, Pres. Wilson Tuesday gave orders to the officials in charge of his special train to eliminate all further stops on his return trip to Washington. A crowd of more than 5,000 assembled at Charlotte, N. C., and shouted for a speech, but the president refused to allow the train to stop more than 60 seconds and let it be known that he is anxious to avoid all further hand-shaking in Dixie.

Scores of telegrams in congratulations on his Mobile speech flooded the president's special train Tuesday. Many of them characterized it as the greatest state paper of the decade.
